

On June 7, 1949, Florida's third branch of government, the Supreme Court of Florida, surrendered to a private professional trade group formerly known as the Florida State Bar Association and now known as The Florida Bar. This private organization usurped our government which set the stage for the present day graft and corruption now found in Florida's judicial system.

Notes and Further Reading

When laws are legislated that invent as "rights" conduct contrary to natural law, power usurps truth. So St. Thomas Aquinas said (STh 1-2.95.2): "every law made by man can be called a law insofar as it derives from the natural law. But if it is somehow opposed to the natural law, then it is not really a law but rather a corruption of the law."

Article V, Section 15 of the Constitution of the State of Florida gives the Supreme Court of Florida exclusive and ultimate authority to regulate the admission of persons to the practice of law and the discipline of those persons who are admitted to practice. (When the judges and lawyers write laws that pertain to their respective positions the result is tyranny)

Florida Supreme Court and the Florida Bar Association

With the integration of the Florida Supreme Court and the Florida Bar Association there is the nexus of corruption of law.

Since the signing of this court order, [Petition of Florida State Bar Association {40 So2d. 902, 1949 Fla.Sct374} Petition of Florida State Bar Association et al. Florida Supreme Court, en Banc. Decided June 7, 1949] The Florida Bar has amassed over 35 million dollars in assets, which are not the property of the state. Annual membership dues from The Florida Bar's present day membership exceed 11.5 million dollars. All this unregulated cash in the hands of Florida Bar leaders, absent legislative control of its use, has created an oppressive monster and has fed the corruption and judicial abuse presently experienced by members and non-members of The Florida Bar.

This order enabled a private professional trade association to establish a monopoly in the dissemination of information to the public about our laws and our legal system and enables the use (abuse) of the power of the State to virtually eliminate Bar members' competition, under color of law. At the time of the signing of this order of surrender, 27 judicial branches of other states had already fallen victim to the same scheme.

Persons not members of The Florida Bar who criticize the status quo or challenge the monopoly are charged with the unlicensed practice of law (UPL) and are prosecuted without due process of law and are denied a jury trial. Members are usually harassed by their peers and/or are threatened by Bar leaders if they should attempt to expose the ugly truth, with their "license/certificates" to practice law placed in jeopardy.

As a result, our state and federal judicial systems have become a forum for only the wealthy and the powerful. Persons of lesser financial status only receive the amount of "justice" their bank accounts can buy. Our system of justice has been reduced to nothing more than a government-protected racket designed to enrich a select few. In other words and in simple terms, justice is for sale in Florida, but it is not "on sale."

Of the newly elected legislators that will decide our fates during this 2015-2016 session 43 are attorneys. There are 160 members and 43 are lawyers. 43 have taken an oath to the BAR. 43 have also taken an oath of office to the legislator, how can these 43 serve 2 masters? One example:

Michelle Rehwinkel Vasilinda (born July 9, 1960) is a member of the Florida House of Representatives, representing the 9th District, which includes most of Leon County, since 2008. In addition to her legislative career, Representative Rehwinkel Vasilinda is also an attorney and has been a professor of Legal Studies and Applied Ethics at Tallahassee Community College since 1989.

There is a conflict of interest when we have attorneys/lawyers as legislators (who will vote on issues) consider this:

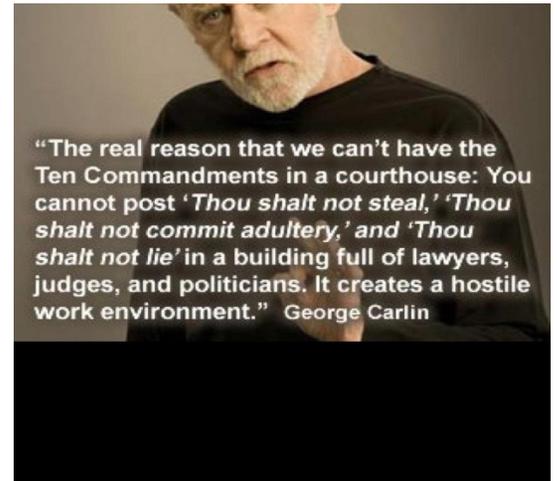

The ABA mission statement on a few topics that your legislator will vote on:

Climate Change: Climate change continues to be a source of rapid developments in environmental law. Over the course of 2013 and 2014, EPA will propose new source performance standards for greenhouse gas emissions from new and existing sources.

Sustainable Development: The ABA House of Delegates recently adopted a resolution on sustainability, and a presidential-level ABA task force has been established to carry out the implementation of the resolution.

According to the Florida State Constitution: Article II Section 3 - Branches of government - The powers of the state government shall be divided into legislative, executive and judicial branches. No person belonging to one branch shall exercise any powers appertaining to either of the other branches unless expressly provided herein.

The US Constitution mentions the separation of Powers in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Articles.

Judges, out of self-interest, simply will not control judges. We cannot get justice from them in the matter of judicial abuse because they enjoy nearly absolute judicial immunity. Almost every effort to hold them accountable meets with failure. The bar won't discipline them, the JQC claims they deal only with ethics issues, and the Legislature yawns and looks the other way in all but the most egregious and public abuses. The State Attorney won't prosecute them because he has to litigate before them and wants to win. The State Attorney controls access to the grand jury, so they will never see evidence of the crimes.

That means the job of bringing justice to them falls upon the stooped shoulders of the People. And because judges have and willingly abuse such awesome power, the People must become adept at guerilla tactics in order to prevail unscathed.

Axiom: the FOX shall not guard the HEN-HOUSE.

We chickens ignore or violate that axiom at our peril.

Contact your legislators and the Governor's Office, demand action to remedy this state-wide travesty of justice. Without a remedy we are lawless and subjects of tyranny.
